

Allow approved users to remotely enter orders directly into your system via a web browser or their iPhone. By presenting the list of products from that customer's stored template, they only need to enter a quantity beside the lines they require, their order number and confirm the order. Ideal for reps on the road, chefs at the end of their shifts, customers with regular orders.

While they are logged on to your system, they can check availability of stocked items, status of previously entered orders, or print copies of previously shipped Invoices.